Call for Scholarship Applications for the academic year 2021/22

1. Short Course Applications.

Currently, there is one 6-day on-line CT Cardiac Course scheduled to take place from 6th -11th June 2021.

Places are very limited but we do have funds available. I would strongly encourage anyone interested in taking part to contact me, Dr Maria, at PSMscourse@ed.ac.uk, as soon as possible.

2. Postgraduate Degree programme applications

Given the ongoing pandemic, we appreciate that many universities, including Polish medical universities, are not and will not be encouraging foreign travel by their staff and students for the foreseeable future. Participation in distance learning programmes does however remain an option in these challenging times for those whose workloads and schedules permit taking on this extra commitment.

The Call for Edinburgh-based and distance learning programmes is 'live' and open for scholar applications (both for Edinburgh based and online/distance learning postgraduate programmes) on the University's web site. I have already received a couple of enquiries about scholarships for 2021/22 which is encouraging.

Applications for the academic year 2021/22: Applications will be considered from eligible candidates wishing to apply for a 1-year taught Masters programme/Masters by research offered at The University of Edinburgh College of Medicine or a Masters by distance learning provided that they have the full support of their Head of Department and Polish Medical University authorities. Applications must be submitted via the Degree Course Scholarship Application form link.

Further information can be found at: Polish School of Medicine Memorial Fund Scholarships | The University of Edinburgh for on-line courses and at Polish School of Medicine Memorial Fund Scholarships | The University of Edinburgh in the case of Edinburgh based courses
